The trail project is a welcomed improvement. I have used the route often to reach the harbor area from Greenwich Street in Lower Roxbury. The route under Route 93 has always been a challenge due to the cars' speeds.

I only have an objection to building the sidewalk, instead of the bike lane, next to the road on Foundry Street. It would be safer for pedestrians to be on the side of the buildings, than on the side of cars.

I hope the next bike lane project involves Blue Hill Avenue or Dorchester Avenue, where minority populations would be the beneficiaries.
